Golf Course & Grounds

Course Renovation Update

Five greens (2, 3, 4, 6 & 18) were successfully seeded in May. Seeding the 4 remaining holes (1, 7, 8, & 9) is our priority. Once completed we will be shifting our attention to completing some of the peripheral areas throughout the course. Recent progress includes:

- Shaping 8, and 9
- Irrigation & drainage installation on 1, 8 and 9 green
- Greens mix installed on 1, 8, and 9
- Bunker construction in progress on 1, 8, and 9

Tee Improvements

A variety of teeing options has made golf at Cutten Fields more enjoyable for all skill levels

The new tees at Cutten Fields have made a significant impact to both high and low handicap golfers and everything in between. A few concepts that have impacted the overall design included creating more separation between tee decks, previously we had many shared decks or only a 3-5 yard difference between tee markers. Now we have 20-30 yard difference on each hole. Par 3 tees are larger in size to accommodate iron shots and increased divots, but it also gives more options for different yardages. Length was added where ever possible, and initial measurements have the golf course at 7024 yards from the blue. In turn holes were also made shorter and after we complete the remaining tee complexes we anticipate the green tees to play just under 5000 yds. Finally one of the biggest improvements around the tees is the flow and connectivity. The path system is much more user friendly for all the tees and greens. Most the tees on the course have now been rebuilt with the exception of hole 10 and 12, which will be completed in the fall. Now that we have 4 solid sets of tees we should encourage your golfing friends to play the appropriate set of tees that suit your game. The golf course and tees have been placed according to skill level. If you are playing the right tees the hazards should be in your line of play.

DRIVING RANGE & LEARNING CENTRE

At Cutten Fields members benefit from a fantastic learning centre, and driving range facility. These facilities are very well utilized and keeping good quality turf is important. Achieving the quickest possible turf recovery is completely dependent on how a golfer patterns divots. All golfers at every golf facility worldwide are being encouraged to make linear divot patterns for optimum turf recovery.
